INDEX.

A.

Accounts, public, for the year, II. cccxcicccccv

Acts, public, for the year, II. ccclxxviccclxxxvii

Adams, John, an American frigate, burnt, I. 339

Address to the French armies by the provisional government, II. xxxiv

African Institution, discovery of an attempt to retain a negro boy in slavery, II. clxviii

Agricultural distresses, I. 359, 360

Agricultural report for February, II. xx, xxi—For March, xxxiii, xxxiv—For April, xlvi—For July, ciii, civ—For August, cxxi, cxxii—For October, cxli—For November, cliv

Aignan, de St Baron, included by mistake among the prisoners of war taken at Weimar, and intrusted with the basis upon which the allies were willing to make peace with Napoleon, I. 172, 173

Alexander, Emperor, his clemency to the Parisians, I. 268—he visits Britain, 350—his manners, 352. Farther particulars, II. lxxviii—Arrives at the Hague, xc—he declines the appellation bestowed on him of "Blessed," cxxv

Alexandria on the Potowmack, surrenders to the British, I. 338

Allied Sovereigns, they enter into a new treaty at Chatillon, I. 240—their triumphal entry into Paris, 268—they announce their determination not to treat with Buonaparte on any terms, 273—they cede to him the Isle of Elba, 276—they conclude a definitive treaty of peace with Louis, 291—they visit Britain, 350—their reception in the capital, 351, 352—they visit Oxford, ib. Farther particulars, II. lxvii-lxxxiii

America, South, affairs of, I. 325-327

America, North, affairs of, I. 328-330. Negociations for peace, 331. Commissioners appointed to meet at Ghent, ib. Military events of the year, 332-340. The war becomes unpopular, 341. Financial difficulties and discontent of the eastern states, ib. Peace concluded at Ghent, 342, 343. Proclamation of the President and message to the Senate, II. ccclxviii-ccclxxiii

Amsterdam, decree of the Board of Trade prohibiting the slave trade, II. lxvi

Angouleme, duke of, leaves England, I. 221. He enters Bourdeaux, 228. He departs from London on his way to France, II. xliv

Antwerp attacked by Generals Graham and Bulow, I. 211—Declared a free port, 308

Arbroath, storm and loss of a fishing boat there, II. lxiv

Arcis-sur-Aube, battle of, I. 246, 247

Army Estimates for the year, I. 143-146—Discussions on, 148

Aslett, Mr, poulterer, London, shoots a person attempting to rob his shop, II. clxxii

Asoff, singular sea phenomenon there, II. xlix

Augereau defeated at Villefranche, I. 250—Embraces the new order of things, and insults his late master, 287

Austria, frequent communications with Buonaparte, I. 232—Receives new accessions of territory, 314. The Emperor visits the catacombs at Paris, II. lii
Avalanche, dreadful instance of, in Wallachia, II. lxx
Avon sloop of war strikes to the Wasp, but is released, I. 332
Ayr, attempt to blow up the powder magazine there, II. xc

B.

Balloch ferry-boat upset in crossing the Leven, when many passengers perished, II. cxxvi
Baltimore, attack on, by Colonel Broke, I. 338
Banks, Mr, his resolution of supporting the conduct of the Speaker adopted, I. 74
Baring, Mr, opposes the seamen and marine bill, I. 28, 29
Bar-sur-Aube taken by the allies, I. 188. Battle of, 238, 239
Barclay, Captain, his trial and honourable acquittal for the loss of the squadron on Lake Erie, II. cxxx
Basle, meeting at, of the allied sovereigns, I. 178
Baseley, Charles H. prosecuted for illicit courtship of Miss Ann Wade, a ward of chancery, II. clvi
Bayonne, sortie of the garrison, I. 283
Beauharnois, Eugene, he fights the battle of Roverbello, I. 312
Begemder, Solomon, a rich Jew, dies of the plague at Constantinople, II. cxxx
Belgium favours the march of the allied troops, I. 213. Incorporated with Holland, 307, 308
Bell-Rock light-house, account of, II. cxxiv. Inscription left there by Walter Scott, Esq. ib.
Bennigsen, General, lays siege to Hamburgh, I. 296
Bentinck, Lord William, besieges Genoa, I. 313
Berenger, Mr, chief agent in a fraud on the Stock-Exchange, I. 346, 347. He is apprehended at Leith, 348. His trial and sentence, 349. Subject of his fraud resumed, II. xxvi
Beresford, Marshal, enters Bourdeaux, I. 228
Bergen-op-Zoom, unsuccessful attack of, by the British under Sir T. Graham, I. 211, 212
Bernadotte moves forward to the Rhine, I. 209. His inactivity and hesitating conduct, ib. Visits Paris after its capitulation, 299. Returns to Sweden, ib. Invades Norway, and is victorious, 302
Berri, Duke de, arrives in London, II. cxiii
Blucher crosses the Rhine, and surprises Marshal Marmont, I. 176. Takes Langres and Nancy, 178. Is attacked at Brienne by Buonaparte, and forced from his position, 189, 190. Gains the battle of La Rothiere, 191, 192. His masterly retreat upon Bergeres, 197, 198. Burns the bridge of Mery, 201. He moves on the flank of Macdonald's division, 203. He is driven from his position at Craonne, 234. He gains the battle of Laon, 236, 238. Storms Rheims, 253. He co-operates in the attack on Paris, 261. He visits Britain, and is adored by the populace, 350, 351
Bourbon Princes leave England, I. 221. Duke d'Angouleme enters Bourdeaux, 228. Their cause indirectly favoured by the allies, 267
Bourbon, Duke de, embarks at Dover for France, II. xliii
Bourdeaux declares for the Bourbons, I. 228
Brienne, battle of, I. 189, 190
Brighton, violent storm there, II. clxvii
Bristol, ancient coffin discovered there, II. xxx
Brydges, Sir Egerton, his motion for the amendment of the poor-laws, I. 59
Broderick, Miss, attempt to rob her house defeated by the butler, II. cxlix
Broke, Captain, is presented with a sword and the freedom of the city by the corporation of London, II. liii
Budget for the year, for Britain, I. 151-155—Irish, 153-158
Bulletins of his majesty's health, II. iii, xxii, lvii, xc, cxii, cxxiii, cxxxii
Bulow, general, his army detached from that of the Crown Prince, I. 212
Buonaparte demands from his Senate a new levy of 300,000 men, I. 171-173. Negociations with the allies, 173. His government is unpopular, 182, 183. His singular speech on dismissing the legislative body, 184. Puts himself at the head of his armies, 186. He fights the battle of Brienne, and forces Blucher from his position, 189, 190. Loses the battle of La Rothiere, 191, 192. Offers to accede to the bases of peace proposed by the allies, 195. Surprises the Silesian army, and defeats the division of Sacken, 195-197. Compels Blucher to retreat, 197, 198. Takes Montexun, 200. Regains the confidence of the French by this victory, ib. Enters Troyes, 203. Condemns De Goualt to death, ib. He is elated with his partial successes, and refuses to agree to a suspension of hostilities, 231, 232. He fights the battle of Craonne, 234, 235. He loses the battle of Laon, 236-238. His proposals for peace rejected by the congress of Chatillon, 242. He expels the Russians from Rheims, 244. He fights the battle of Arcis-sur-Aube, 246, 247. He retreats upon St Dizier, 247-249. Attacks the corps of Winzingerode on the banks of the Marne, 270. Summons Vitry to surrender, ib. He implores the protection of the Emperor Francis, 271. Marches to Paris, ib. He instructs Caulaincourt to treat with the allies, 273. He is declared to have forfeited his right to the crown, 274. He offers to abdicate the throne, 275. Is sick at Fontainbleau, 286. He harangues the guards, and departs for Elba, 289. Is threatened by the populace, ib. Account of his departure from Fontainbleau, II. xliii. He arrives at Elba, xlix

Buonaparte, Joseph, commands at Paris, I. 259. He encourages the inhabitants, ib. He flies from Paris after demanding a cessation of arms, 262. He renounces his right to the property assigned him by the convention of Fontainbleau, II. c

Buonaparte, Lucien, created a Roman Prince by the Pope, II. cxix

Burdett, Sir Francis, announces his intention of mounting the pillory with Lord Cochrane, I. 350

Burlington House, grand entertainment at, in honour of the allied sovereigns, I. 352

Burns, Robert, meeting at Dumfries concerning his proposed mausoleum, II. x. Relique of him found, xxxiv

Burnes, John, convicted of swindling, which he confessed he was forced to by extreme poverty, II. cxlix, cl

Butt, Mr, an agent in the fraud on Stock-Exchange, I. 346-348

Byron, Lord, the Guerilla, a poem, ascribed to, II. ccccix

C.

Cadiz displays a disposition to resist the tyranny of Ferdinand, I. 323. Compulsory loan imposed on its merchants, 325

Caithness, favourable account of the herring fishery there, II. cxxiii

Cambridge, Duke of, represents the Prince Regent at Hanover, I. 306. His speech to the deputies, ib.

Campaign in Germany, preparations of the allies for attacking France on all sides, I. 168-171

Campbell, Colonel, accompanies Buonaparte to Elba, I. 288

Canada, war in, I. 328-340

Canning, George, Esq. of Bolton, M. P. incarcerates in the Canongate jail of Edinburgh, a person designing himself Earl of Findlater, II. clvi

Canning, Mr, his speech on the motion for granting subsidies to foreign powers, I. 41-46. His speech in favour of Mr Wilberforce's motion respecting the slave-trade among foreign nations, 122, 123.

Carr, Sir William, created a British Peer, I. 355

Castlereagh, Lord, mover of militia service bill, I. 17-24—Of local militia ditto, and bill for augmenting the 60th and 66th regiments, 24-26. His exposition of the subsidies granted to foreign powers, 35-36. Applauds the conduct of Sweden, Russia, Prussia, Austria, 39. Declares ministers favourable to peace, 40,41. Defends the Prince Regent's conduct to the Princess of Wales—Pledges the crown to agree in extending the provision for her, 99-104. His speeches on moving the new grant, 106, 111, and 113. Defends the negociations with France from the censures of the abolitionists, 127-130. Replies to Mr Tierney, 162, 163. His correspondence with Madison, 330. He is warmly greeted on his re-appearance in the House of Commons, 356

Cashel, Ireland, attack on the mail coach there, II. cxliii
Catholic board declared contrary to law, II. lxvii
Caulaincourt negociates with the allies, I. 184—His mission unsuccessful, 273
Cecil, Lieutenant, shoots Captain Stackpole in a duel at Jamaica, II. lxv
Chancellor of the Exchequer for Ireland brings forward the Irish budget for the the year, I. 155-158
Chateaubrand, M., his pamphlet in favour of the Bourbons, I. 273
Chatillon, congress of, dissolved, I. 242
Christian, Prince Frederick, named Hereditary Prince of Norway, I. 300. His resignation and return to Denmark, 302. His proclamation to the Norwegians, II. l. His reply to the commissioners from the allied powers, ccclii. Letter to the King of Sweden, ccclv
Christophe, attempt of a French officer to persuade him to abdicate the throne of Hayti, I. 343. His magnificent equipage &c., II. clxii
Clarence, Duke of, arrives with the Duchess of Oldenburgh at Sheerness, II. xxxii
Clarke, Mrs Mary Anne, receives sentence for a libel on the Chancellor of the Exchequer for Ireland, II. xv
Clement, Mr James, of Wilts, accidentally killed while shooting, II. xiv
Cochrane Johnston, Mr, his connection with the fraud on Stock Exchange, I. 346, 347, 348. His trial and sentence, ib. He flies to the continent, ib.
Cochrane, Lord, implicated in the fraud on Stock Exchange, I. 346, 347. He utters a voluntary affidavit, ib. His trial and sentence, 348. The Prince Regent remits the ignominous part of his sentence, 350. He demands a new trial, 348. He is expelled from the House of Commons and degraded from the order of the Knights of the Bath, 350. He is again returned for Westminster, ib. Copy of his deposition, II. xxvii. His speech to the electors, II. xcix
Coffin of stone dug out at Burford, in Oxfordshire, II. clxii
Coke, Dr, his funeral sermon preached at Manchester, II. cliv. Alarm and accident in the chapel, ib.
Coleridge, Mr, Isabelle, a poem ascribed to, II. ccccxx
Combermere, Lord, receives a grant from parliament in consideration of his eminent services, I. 355
Commercial distresses, I. 358, 359
Comptoun, Earl of, mover of address in Lower House, I. 14
Condé, Prince of, embarks at Dover for France, II, xliv
Confiance frigate strikes to the Americans, I. 340
Congress of the allied powers appointed to meet at Vienna, I. 274. Opening of, II. cxxxiv
Constitutional charter of France, II. lv
Convention between the Prince Royal of Sweden and the Norwegian government, II. ccclix
Cooper, Mr, schoolmaster of Dalmeny, proves a libel against the Rev. J. Greig, minister there, II. xv
Copy-right bill, outline of, II. cxxxi
Cork, violent storm there, II. clxvi
Corn laws, discussion on, I. 74-80. Resolution adopted, forming the basis of a new corn bill, 81. Petitioned against by the people, and postponed for a session, on the motion of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, ib. Different resolutions regarding them adopted, 74—Reflections on, 361
Cortes divided into the serviles and liberales, I. 317, 318. They abolish the Inquisition, 319. They are hated by Ferdinand, 320, 321. They frame a new constitution. Declared illegal and dissolved, 321, 322. The principal members arrested, 322
Craonne, battle of, I. 234, 235

D.

Dakin, Mr, coroner's inquest on his body, II. 148
Dalhousie, Lord, his speech on being presented with the freedom of Edinburgh, II. v
Dantzick, surrender of, I. 295
Davoust defends Hamburgh, I. 296. Yields to the new government, and evacuates the city, 297
Death of James Robinson, an eccentric character, at Tweedmouth, II. xv—Of Mrs Wright, prioress of the nunnery at Langhern, xviii—Of the Empress Josephine, lvii—Of Charles Dibdin, poet, ciii—Of Solomon Begember, a rich Jew, at Constantinople, cxxx—Of Johanna Southcote, clxxi

Declaration of Denmark on the causes of the war, and promising to join the allies, II. cccxi. Sweden on the affairs of Norway, cccxxi. Of the allies on breaking off the negociations at Chatillon, cccxxii. Of the King of Saxony on the occupation of his country by the Prussians, ccclxxiii
Degier, St, taken by the French, I. 189. Retaken by the Prussians, 191
Digby, Earl of, moves an address to the Prince Regent, I. 5
Dijon opens its gates to Prince Schwartzenberg's army, I. 181
Dispatches from Sir Edward Pellew, dated H. M. ship America, off Leghorn, Dec. 15th, 1813, with enclosures from Sir Josias Rowley and Captain Dundas, II. clxxxvii. Genoa Mole, 14th April, 1814, with enclosures from Sir J. Rowley, ccxxiii
——— from the Marquis of Wellington, dated St Jean de Luz, Jan. 9th, 1814, II. clxxxix. Another dated Feb. 10th, cxciv. St Sever, March 1st, excvii. Another dated March 4th, with an enclosure from Sir Rowland Hill, cci. Aire, March 13th and 14th, ccvii. Toulouse, April 12th, ccxi. With an enclosure from Majors-General Colville and Howard, 19th April, ccxv
——— from Sir Thomas Graham, (now Lord Lynedock) dated Calmhout, Jan. 14th, 1814, II. clxxxix—Mercxem, Feb. 6th, cxci—Calmhout, March 10th, with an enclosure from Major-General Cooke, cciii—Another March 11th, ccvi—Antwerp, 5th May, ccxxv
——— from Rear-Admiral Durham, dated the Venerable, at sea, Jan. 16th and 20th, 1814, II. cxc
——— from Captain Napier of H. M. ship Niger, Jan. 6th, 1814, II. cxcii
——— from Captain Hayes of H. M. ship Majestic, Feb. 5th, 1814, II. cxciv
——— from Admiral Lord Keith, with an enclosure from Captain Phillimore, dated H. M. ship Eurotas, off Plymouth Sound, March 1st, 1814, II. 196
——— from Captain Palmer of the Hebrus, dated March 29, 1814, II. ccviii
——— from Captain Hillyar of the Phœbe, dated Valparaiso Bay, March 30th, II. ccix
Dispatches from Lord William Bentinck, dated Genoa, April 20th, II. ccxx
——— from General Stewart, dated Fere Champenoise, March 26, II. ccxxv. Colomiers, March 27, ccxxviii—Bondy, March 29, ccxxix—Heights of Belleville, March 30th, ccxxxi—Paris, April 1st, ccxxxv
——— from Lord Viscount Cathcart, dated Paris, March 31st, II. ccxxxii
——— from Colonel J. Murray, dated Fort Niagara, Dec. 29th, 1813, II. ccxxxvii
——— from Major-General P. Rial, dated Fort Erie, Jan. 1, 1814, II. ccxxxviii—Lewiston, Dec. 19th, 1813, ccxl—Chippawa, July 6th, ccxliii
——— from Sir George Prevost, dated Quebec, March 12th, with an enclosure from Lieut.-Gen. Drummond, II. ccxl.—Montreal, July 10th and 14th, with enclosure from the same, ccxlii—Another 5th August, with enclosure from the same, ccxlvi—Another 27th August, with enclosures from the same and Lieut.-Col. de Watteville, ccli—Plattsburgh, 11th Sept., cclv—Montreal, 30th Sept., with enclosures from the same, ccxciii—Another, 4th Oct., with an enclosure from Lieut.-Gen. Drummond, ccxcv
——— from Lieut.-Col. A. Pilkington, dated Moore Islands, 12th July, II. ccxlv
——— from Sir J. L. Yeo, dated Kingston, 24th Sept., with an enclosure from Captain Priny of the Linnet, II. cclix
——— from Major-General Ross, dated Tonnant, in the Patuxent, 30th August, II. cclix
——— from Sir Alexander Cochrane, dated Tonnant, in the Patuxent, 2d Sept., with enclosures from Rear Admiral Cockburn, II. cclxii—Chesapeake, 17th Sept., with enclosures from the same, and from Captain J. A. Gordon, cclxxiii
——— from Colonel Broke, dated H. M. ship Tonnant, Chesapeake, 17th Sept., II. cclxix
——— from Sir J. C. Sherbroke, dated Castine, 27th Sept., with an enclosure from Lieut.-Col. Henry St John, II. cclxxxii.—Halifax, 28th Sept., with an enclosure from Lieut.-Col. Pilkington, ccxci
——— from Rear-Admiral Griffith,

dated his majesty's ship Endymion, off the Castine, Sept. 9, with an enclosure from Captain R. Barrie, II. cclxxxvii
Dominica, Island of, war between the colonists and the Maroon negroes, I. 343
Dover, visit of the Prince Regent to honour the embarkation of Louis XVIII. and the other Bourbon princes, II. xliv. Farther particulars, lxxxii. Violent storm there, clxvi
Dover mail coach, uncustomed goods taken from, II. cxxxii
Downie, Captain, killed in an action on Lake Champlain, I. 339
Dresden, dreadful explosion there, II. xcvi, xcvii
Drummond, Colonel, his account of the battle of Niagara, I. 334. He is killed at Fort Erie, 335 ———, General, destroys Fort Oswego, I. 332. He defeats the Americans near Niagara, 334. He directs an unsuccessful attack on Fort Erie, 335. He repels a sortie made by the garrison, 340. He retreats to Chippawa
———, Mr, M. P. obtains damages against the keeper of the Preston Bull Inn, II. xxviii
Drury Lane theatre, copy of the first English play bill, II. lxvi. Mr Whitbread's account of dramas submitted, cxxxi
Dublin, a proclamation of the lord lieutenant issued declaring the catholic board contrary to law, II. lvii. Violent storm there, clxvi. Tumult in the theatre there, clxxiii-clxxvi Extraordinary tumult there, clxxii-clxxvi. Reflections on, ib
Duel in Jamaica between Captain Stackpole and Lieutenant Cecil, II. lvi
Duke of Montrose packet engages by mistake the Primrose sloop of war near Lisbon, II. xxxii
Dundas, Mr William, his bill for fixing the yearly number of seamen and marines, I. 28. Replies to Mr Baring, 29, 30. Re-elected member for Edinburgh, II. cxii
Dundee, singular marriage there, II. xx
Dunn, — surgeon, Bath, convicted of crim. con. with the wife of Major-General Dyott, II, clv
Duterich, Adjutant, shot in a duel with W. H. Souper, II. cxx

E.

Eaton, Daniel Isaac, is tried for publishing a deistical book called Ecce Homo, II. lii
Edinburgh, freedom of the city presented to Lord Dalhousie and Walter Scott, Esq. II. v. Apprehension of Colonel de Burgh, 38. Meeting of the General Assembly, lii. The magistrates contract for finishing Nelson's monument, liv. Meeting of the Pitt club, lv. Address voted to the Prince Regent on the return of peace, 64. Peace proclaimed there, lxxxiii. Address of the magistrates to the Count d'Artois, cxxiii
Elba, Island of, ceded to Buonaparte as the place of his exile, I. 276. His arrival on the island, 288. Further particulars, II. xlix
Erie, Fort of, blown up and abandoned by the Americans, I. 341
Execution of John Ashton and five others, II. cxvi
Exeter, storm of snow there, II. viii
Exmouth, Lord, receives a grant from parliament in consideration of his services, I. 553

F.

Falmouth, loss of the transport Queen, and most of her crew, II. vii
Fanning, Miss, of Waterford, takes the white veil, II. cxii
Ferdinand enters into a new treaty with Buonaparte, I. 214, 216—He is restored to Spain, 320. His aversion to the cortes, ib. He dissolves the cortes, and arrests the principal members, 321, 323. He restores the Inquisition and all the corruptions of the old government, 323. Elected a knight of the garter, II. cxii.
Festivities for the entertainment of the populace on the return of peace, I. 356
Finances, annual statement laid before parliament for Britain and Ireland, I, 148-158.
Fire, in paper mills, near Dover, II. vi—At Eckford, near Kelso, xi—In St Giles,

ib.—In Holborn, ib.—In the Custom House, Thames Street, xvii—Of the Pagoda at London, during the jubilee, cix—In Blair Atholl House, cxiv—In the Ship tavern, Leith, cxv—In Lingard and Jones' mustard mills, Southwark, cxvii—In Mr Dun's machinery work, Glasgow, cxxiv—In the house of Mr Andrews, at Shadwell, cxxxv—In the house of Mr Lewson, London, cxlviii—In Mr Scott's house, Hawick, clii

Fitzwilliam, Lord, objects to the measures of keeping the militia embodied after the peace, I. 89

Fontainbleau, departure of Buonaparte from, II. xliii

Franckfort, council of war held at, to settle the plan of invasion, I. 174.

France refuses to abolish the slave-trade in less than five years from the date of the treaty of peace with Britain, I. 123. Prepares to defend herself against the threatened invasion, 171, 172 Napoleon becomes unpopular, 182, 183. Legislative body dismissed, ib. Negociations for peace, 184. Revulsion of public opinion in favour of Buonaparte, 200. Experiences those evils her armies had so often inflicted on other nations, 204, 205. Invaded by Lord Wellington, 206. Conspiracy in the south in favour of the Bourbons, 218, 220. Bourdeaux declares for the Bourbons, and opens its gates to the English, 228. Negociations for peace continued, 231. Napoleon's offers of peace rejected by the allies, 242, 243. A large convoy surprised and taken, 254, 255. The allies in sight of Paris, 256. Consternation of the Parisians, and flight of the empress, 258, 259. The capital surrenders to the allies, 262, 263. Provisional government named, 274. Abdication of Buonaparte, 275. The senate forms a new constitution, and proposes to proclaim Louis XVIII. 285. Return of the king, 288, 289. Peace concluded betwixt the king and the allies, 291. The legislative body receives a new charter of rights, 293. The Moniteur declared the only official journal, II. xxxiv. Ordinance regulating the naval service, xcviii. Treaty of peace with Spain, cxxiv. Constitution, copy of, cccxliv

French armies, decay of their discipline, I. 166, 167. They are attacked with an infectious distemper, ib.

Freemantle, Mr, insists on the necessity and practicability of reduction in the army estimates, I. 146

Ffrench and Co. bankers, Dublin, suspend payment, II. cxiv

Ffrench, Lord, coroner's inquest on his body at Dublin, II. clxi

Frost, observations on, II. xiii

G.

Geneva surrenders to the Austrians, I. 175. Accedes to the Helvetic league, 309

Genoa, capitulates to the English, I. 312. Is adjudged to Savoy, 314

General assembly, meeting of, II. lii

Germany, affairs of, 295-297

German soldiers, their enthusiasm on first seeing the Rhine at the opening of the campaign, I. 171

Ghent, appointed the rendezvous of the British and American commissioners to treat for peace, I. 331

Glasgow, melancholy accident there by the falling in of a house, II. xxii. Theatre sold, liv. Opening of the Lunatic Asylum, cliv. Case of punishment by pillory there, clxxii

Gloucester, thunder storm there, II. cxxviii

Gordon, Major, he accidentally kills Gregory, a private, II. xxxi

Goualt, De, shot at Troyes for favouring the Bourbons, I. 203

Gottingen university, receives a rich present of books from the Prince Regent, II. cxlviii

Grant, Mr C., seconds the address to the Prince Regent, in a striking and eloquent speech, I. 14-17

Graham, Sir Thomas, takes command of the British troops in Holland, I. 210. Attacks Antwerp, 211. He fails in his attempt to take Bergen-op-Zoom, 211, 212. He is raised to the peerage, 355.

Greenock, account of a storm there, II. clxiv

Grenville, Lord, his able speech at opening of parliament, I. 6-12. Moves for papers regarding the slave trade, 130. His protest against the French slave trade, II. cccv

Grey, Lord, his speech on his motion for petitioning the Prince Regent to interpose his mediation to rescue the Norwegians from famine, or subjugation to a foreign yoke, I. 131-189

Grey, Rev. J., of Dalmeny, convicted of a libel against the schoolmaster of his parish, II. xiv

H.

Hackney coaches, circular of the commissioners concerning, II. clii
Hague, arrival of the Emperor of Russia there, II. xc
Hampden, town of, taken by the British, I. 389
Hamburgh besieged by the Russians, I. 296. Evacuated by Davoust, 297. Exchange there re-opened, II. liii. Bank re-opened, lix
Hanover, the sovereignty of, reclaimed by England, I. 306. New constitution presented by the Duke of Cambridge, ib.
Harrowby, Earl of, replies to Earl Grey's speech on the injustice of transferring Norway to Sweden, I. 139-142
Hatchell, Counsellor, fights a duel with Mr Moseley, a Dublin attorney, II. xvi
Hay, Major-General, killed at Bayonne, I. 283
Helvetic league receives the accession of Geneva, I. 309
Hill, General, he forces, in concert with Mina, the French position near Hellette, I. 223. Compels the French to retire from Aires, 226. He is engaged in the battle of Toulouse, 282. He is created a peer, 355
Hinckley, John, Esq. of Gray's Inn, coroner's inquest on his body, II. cliv
Hogg, James, extract from his unpublished poem of "The Field of Waterloo, II. cccxxx
Holland revolts from the French yoke, I. 210. Decree of the king against the slave trade, II. xcl. Constitution, copy of, cccxviii Discourse of the Prince Sovereign, cccxx Hope, Sir John, attacked by the garrison of Bayonne, I. 283. Made prisoner, ib.
Hope, Right Hon. Charles, his speech on disembodying his regiment of Edinburgh volunteers, II. xci, xcii
Horner, Mr, opposes Secretary Peel's bill for the better execution of the laws in Ireland, I. 86
Houston, George, is tried and condemned for a libel on the Christian religion, II. cl

I.

Indies, West, affairs of, I. 343
Indies, East, unusual tranquillity of, I. 343, 344
Inquisition, abolished by the cortes, I. 319. Restored by Ferdinand, 322. Decree for the re-establishment of, II. cccivi
Inverness, ball given in honour of the Marquis of Huntly, II. iv
Ireland, disturbances in, I. 81-84. Bill to provide for the better execution of the laws, ib. Additional measure proposed on the 8th July, ib. Budget for the year, 153. Subject of the disturbances resumed, 361-363. System of Middlemen censured, ib. Reflections on the political history of the island, 364. Division of the Catholics, ib.
Irvine, scuffle and accident there, II. xxv
Isle of Man, celebration of the peace there, II. xc
Italy, affairs of, I. 311. The King of Sardinia enters Piedmont, II. 68.

J.

Jason frigate, arrives at Sheerness, with the Duchess of Oldenburgh and Duke of Clarence, II. xxxii. Sails for the continent with the Princess of Wales, cxii
Jesuits, admission of novices into the society, II. cxlix
Josephine, ex-empress, celebration of her funeral, II. lvi
Jubilee in London, account of, II, civ-cx

K.

Kilwinning, fall of the steeple there, II. cx. Antiquity of the monastery, ib.
Kingston, Jamaica, building of a presbyterian church there, II. cxiv
Knights of the Bath, expulsion of Lord Cochrane from the order, II. cxiii

L.

Lamb, Lieutenant-Colonel, drowned on the Sussex coast, II. cxv
Lamberton, Mr, attempts to retain a negro boy in slavery, II. cxlviii
Lanark cotton mills sold at Glasgow, II. iv
Langres surrenders to Blucher, I. 179
Lansdowne, Marquis, moves an Address to the Prince Regent expressive of the regret their lordships felt that the exertions of the Prince Regent for the abolition of the slave traffic had not been attended with more complete success, I. 130, 131
Laon, battle of, I. 236, 238
Larochejaquelein visits Lord Wellington's camp, I. 222, 223
Leeds, terrible storm there, II. clxv
Leith, trade increased there by the opening of the ports of Holland, II. xlv—Meeting respecting the slave trade, xci
Linnæan Society, Doctor James Edward Smith president of, knighted by the Prince Regent, II. ciii
Linnet brig strikes to the Americans, I. 340
Liverpool, Lord, his remarks on the character of the war, I. 12-14—his reply to Earl Grey on the cession of Norway to Sweden, 142
Local Militia, a bill passed for extending their services, I. 24-26
Lock, Richard, his singular speech on being condemned to death for stealing, II. xxv
London visited by the allied sovereigns, I. 350—enthusiasm and curiosity of the populace, 351, 352. Corporation of the city entertain the allied sovereigns at Guildhall, 352. Arrival of the Duke of Wellington, 353. Great fall of snow there, II. ix. The Thames frozen over, xiv. Amusements on the ice, xvi. Burning of the Custom-house in Thames-street, xvii. The Berenger hoax, account of, 18-20. Arrival of the Duchess of Oldenburg, 33. Triumphant entry of Louis XVIII. after being called to the throne of France, xli. The corporation present Captain Broke with a sword and the freedom of the city, liii. Account of the arrival of the allied sovereigns, lx-lxiv. Review in Hyde Park, lxv. Day of thanksgiving, xcii-xciv
Longevity, remarkable instance of, II. xxii
Lord Dundas packet lost on Rattray-head, II. xxviii
Louis XVIII., he is called to the throne and leaves London for Paris, I. 288, 289. He is met by the Prince Regent, who accompanies him to Dover, ib. He presents the legislative body with a new charter, 293. Account of his procession into London, II. xlii, xliii. His reply to the Prince Regent, xliii. He invests him with the Order of St Esprit, xliii. He is congratulated by the Lord Mayor and Aldermen of London, xliv. He arrives at St Owens, and signs an important document, xlvi. His triumphant entry into Paris, xlvii, xlviii. He appoints funeral service for the late King and Queen, xlviii. His speech on opening parliament, lxviii
Lunatic Asylum opened at Glasgow, II. cliv
Lynch, Mayor of Bourdeaux, his attachment to the Bourbon cause, I. 228
Lyons threatened by General Bubna, I. 180. Marshal Augereau throws himself into the town with a body of troops and compels Bubna to retreat, ib. Surrenders to the Prince of Hesse Homberg, 250

M.

M'Donald, Marshal, defeated at Bar Sur l'Aube, I. 238, 239. Evacuates Troyes, ibid.
Mackintosh, Sir James, opposes the adjournment in the House of Commons, I. 47. Supports Sir Samuel Romilly's bill in cases of attainder, 52-54
Madison, Mr, his proclamation to the Americans on the invasion of the capital, II. cccxlviii. His message to the senate on the finances and military events of the year, cccxlix-cccxxiii
Madrid favours the despotism of Ferdinand, I. 322. Conspiracy in, 323. Decree for re-establishing the Inquisition, II. cccxlvii
Magdeburg, surrender of, I. 297
Manchester, accident there on preaching Dr Coke's funeral sermon, II. cliv

Man, Mrs, her mysterious death, II. vi
Maria Louisa again appointed Regent, and recommended to the protection of the citizens of Paris, I. 186. Flies with her son from the capital, 258, 259. She returns to her father, 297
Marmont retreats with Mortier before the grand allied army, I. 255. He is repulsed in defending Paris, and sends a flag of truce to the Russian general, 262, 263. Concludes a treaty for himself with Schwartzenberg, 275
Marne, expedition of, I. 195-198
Mars, ship, loss of by fire, II. cvii
Massy, Mr Hugh, killed at Limerick by the accidental discharge of a pistol, II. xxv
Melville, Lord, elected Chancellor of the University of St Andrews, II. xx
Mermaid, reported appearance of, at Archdeal in Argylshire, II. cxiii
Mery, skirmish at, I. 201
Methuen, Mr, his speech on the Princess of Wales being excluded from her Majesty's drawing-room, I. 94,95. His motion for extending her provision, 97-99
Metternich, Prince, visits Britain, I. 350
Meux and Co. brewers, St Giles, melancholy accident by the bursting of one of their vats, II. cxxxvii,cxxxviii
Mildmay, Sir Henry, his trial for crim. con. with Lady Roseberry, II. clviii-clx
Militia, bill for accepting of their services introduced, I. 17. Passed, 24. Complaints against their remaining embodied, 89. Motion on the same subject by Sir Samuel Romilly, 90
Mina, General, plots against the king and flies to France, I. 324
Mitchell, James, is tried and executed for the murder of Miss Welchman, II. cxi
Monsieur enters Paris as Lieutenant-General of the kingdom, I. 286. Resumes the title of Colonel-General of the Swiss Guards, II. xlviii. His reply to the address of the city of Edinburgh, cxxiii
Montereau retaken by Buonaparte, I. 200
Montgomery, Lord, sale of his stud, II. cix, cxx
Morpeth, Lord, censures a passage in the Speaker's address to the Prince Regent at the adjournment of parliament, I. 66-70
Mosely, Mr, fights a duel with Counsellor Hatchill of Dublin, II. xvi
Murat, his defection from Buonaparte, I. 207, 208
Murder, of a female pauper in Cornwall, II. iv. Of Mary Pritchard, committed 20 years ago by John Jones, xxiv. Of Mary Brian by her husband, xl. Of Mr William Fowler, farmer, near Bristol, lxiv. Of Mr Long in Tipperary, xcv. Of Mrs Noyce in Hampshire, cii. Of Miss Welchman, by Mitchell her lover, cxi. Of Bryan O'Reilly, Springfield, Ireland, cxviii. Of Elizabeth Dobens, by Thomas Sharpe, cxxxiv. Of Gallavan and his son near Cork, cxxxviii. Of Mr Bloham, Essex, cxxxix. Of Hassan, reputed an Orangeman, near Londonderry, clv. Of Michael M'Nichol of Gluck, Ireland, ib. Of Mrs Eaton, London, by her husband, clvii. Of Hardy, a tithe farmer near Cashel, clxx. Of Mr Corry Hurst in the streets of Ballyshannon, ib.

N.

Nancy entered by Blucher, I. 179
Napier, Lord, represents his Majesty at the General Assembly, II. lii
Narg, state of, II. iii
Nemours surrounded and taken by the Cossacks, I. 199
Newcastle, account of a violent storm there, II. 168
Newfoundland fisheries, Americans excluded from by the treaty of Ghent, I. 343
Newport, Sir John, his speech against the Orange associations, I. 86-88
Ney, Marshal, advises Buonaparte to abdicate, I. 275
Niagara, battle of, I. 334
Nicholas, Miss, of Rhymny in Wales, narrowly escapes death by her horse taking fright, II. 140
Nogent stormed and taken by the allied army, I. 199
Northumberland, great quantity of salmon caught in the rivers there, II. cxxiii
Norway ceded to Sweden—Motion and speech of Earl Grey against Britain adhering to her treaty with Sweden and assisting in the transference, I. 131-139. Replied to by the Earls of Harrowby and Liverpool, who defend the justice of the measure, 139-142. Affairs of resumed, 296-299. Meeting of the diet, 301.

Invasion of the Swedes under Bernadotte, 301, 302. Defeat of the Norwegians, ib. United with Sweden, ib.
Nottingham, robbery of Mr Orgil's patent lace manufactory, I. 39. Disturbances there, 40. Continuation of the practice of frame-breaking, II. cxxv

O.

Ogilvie, William, designing himself Earl of Findlater, is incarcerated in the Canongate jail, Edinburgh, at the instance of Mr Canning, M.P. II. cxlvi
Oldenburgh, Duchess, arrives in the Jason frigate at Sheerness, II. xxxii. Her entry into London, xxxiii. She invites the royal family to witness the entry of Louis XVIII. into the British capital, xli. She visits the Bank of England, lxviii
Onslow, Mr Serjeant, his bill for repealing certain parts of the apprentice act.—Obtains leave to bring in a bill for more effectually securing the liberty of the subject, I. 90, 91
Orange associations censured in parliament, I. 86-88. Orangemen attacked in a riot at Sherlock fair, II. lvi
Orange, Prince of, he unites Belgium with Holland, I. 307, 308. He is unsuccessful in his addresses to the Princess Charlotte, 364. His manly and delicate conduct, 366. Elected a Knight of the Garter, II. cxii
Ordnance estimates for the year, I. 148, 149
Orthes, battle of, I. 124, 125
Oudinot, superseded by General Girard, I. 200. Appointed to watch the grand army, 232
Oxford entertains the Prince Regent and the allied sovereigns, I. 352. Further particulars, II. lxx-lxxiv

P.

Paddington Church robbed of its registers and plate, II. cxv
Palafox, Joseph, sullies his fame, by becoming the tool of Buonaparte, I. 216
Palmer, Colonel, is removed from his regiment, for joining in the accusation of Colonel Quintin, II. cxlv, cxlvi
Palmerston, Lord, brings forward the army estimates for the year, I. 143, 146
Paris threatened by the Cossacks, I. 199. Defences of Montmartre, 257. The grand allied army under its walls, 258, 259. Flight of the Empress, 258, 259. Assaulted and capitulates, 262. Agitations of the populace—Alacrity of the royalists, 264-267. The King is recalled, and enters his capital, 288, 289. Discontent of the military, ib. Treaty of peace concluded at, 291. Particulars of the king's procession on entering the city, II. xlvii, xlviii. Meeting of parliament, I. 58. Ordinance for the strict observance of the Sabbath murmured against, 59. Audience of the Duke of Wellington with his majesty, II. cxvi. Fete given by the city to the king, cxix. Account of the drought there, clxii
Parker, Sir Peter, is killed in a skirmish with the Americans near Bellair, I. 338
Parliament assembled the 4th November, I. 3—Auspicious circumstances under which it met, ibid—Prince Regent's speech—Prorogued, 47. Prince Regent's speech upon the close of the session, 30th July, 165. Vote of thanks to Lord Wellington on his taking his seat in the House of Lords, 354. Grant for purchasing him a suitable palace and domain, 355
Parnell, Sir Henry, his speech on the Irish budget, I. 158, 160
Patents, list of, granted in 1814, II. cccvi-cccviii
Peace, proclamation of, II. lxv
Pedestrianism, instance of, II. lxviii
Peel, Mr, speeches on his bills to provide for the better execution of the laws in Ireland, I. 84-86—Replies to Sir John Newport—Never countenanced the Orange associations, 80, 81
Phœbe frigate captures the Essex on the coast of Valparaiso, I. 332
Pianca, C. a foreigner, tried for vending fire-balls called "fulminating pease," II. cxxxvi, cxxxvii
Picton, Sir Thomas, is engaged in the battle of Toulouse, I. 282. Reflections on his not being allowed to share the rewards distributed by parliament, 355.
Piggot, Sir Arthur, supports the bill for subjecting freehold estates to the payment of the owner's simple contract debts, I. 55, 56
Pillory of William Coil and wife, at Glasgow, for wilful perjury, II. clxxii
Pinkelton, Colonel, commands an expedition against Hampden and Bangour, I. 329

Pitt Club, meeting of, at Edinburgh, II. lv
Plague, frightful ravages of, at Smyrna, II. lvii. Farther particulars, cxl Platoff, Hettman, visits Britain, I. 350. He is warmly greeted by the populace, 351. He receives an entertainment from the English officers in Paris, II. li
Plymouth, snow-storm there, II. viii. Violent gale there, clxvii
Poetry, the Guerilla, II. cccccix. The Stranger, cccccxiv. Isabelle, cccccxxii. Peter of Barnet, cccccxxv. The Morning Star, cccccxxix. Prayer of a dying Soldier at Waterloo, cccccxxx
Poland, affairs of, I, 302-304
Pope Pius is restored to Rome, I. 315. Re-establishes the Jesuits.
Popham, Captain, he is repulsed at Sackett's harbour, I. 333
Poor Laws, bill for amendment of, I. 59. Removal of paupers to their own parishes deprecated, 60. New plan of acquiring residence proposed, 61-64. Opposed by Mr Western and lost, 65
Portsmouth, grand naval review there, II. lxvii
Post-office, general, London, plan for robbing of, discovered, II. cxxxviii
Primrose sloop of war engages, by mistake, the Duke of Montrose packet near Lisbon, II. xxxii
Prince Regent, his speeches to parliament, I. 3, 47, 165. Accompanies Louis the XVIII. to Dover, 268, 269. He receives a visit from the allied sovereigns, 350. He attends them to Oxford, 352. His speech to Louis XVIII. 42. He threatens to differ with his daughter on the subject of her marriage with the Prince of Orange, 364. He breaks off the match, and is reconciled to her, 365. His court at Carlton House, II. lxxii. He gives a superb fete to the Duke of Wellington, c. His present to the university of Gottingen, cxlviii
Princess Charlotte, she rejects the suit of the Prince of Orange, I. 364. Her sudden and unauthorized visit to her mother, 360. Her return to Carlton House, and reconciliation with her father, who breaks off the match, ib.
Princess of Wales's letter to the Queen, I. 92, 93—To the Speaker of the House of Commons, 94—Discussions on, 95, 114. She departs for the continent in the Jason frigate, II. cxii. Her reception in her native country, cxxv
Pring, Captain, strikes his flag to the Americans, I. 340
Printing machine invented by Bacon and Donkin, adopted by the University of Cambridge, II. xxiii
Printing Press invented by Mr John Ruthven exhibited before the Edinburgh institute, II. xxiii
Prendergast, Robert, Esq. daring robbery of his house of Greenmount, in Ireland, II. cxli
Proclamation of Monsieur to the French, II. xxiii
Proclamation of Prince Christian Frederick to the Norwegians, II. cccxiii—Of the King of Spain, on being restored to the government, cccxxviii—Of the King of Sweden to the Norwegians, cccxlviii—Of the Prince Royal to the same, ccci—Of Prince Christian, on retiring from Norway, ccclix—Of the Prince Regent to the Hanoverians, on their being re-united to Britain, ccclx—Of the same to the same, ccclxv—Of the President of the United States on the invasion of the capital, ccclxviii—Of the King of Sweden to the Norwegians, on their acknowledging him king, ccclxxiv
Protest against the rejection of Lord Grenville's motion on the French slave trade, II. ccev
Prevost, Sir George, commands an expedition against New York, I. 339. He is defeated at Plattsburg, and forced to retreat, 340. His conduct censured, ib. He deprecates the American mode of making war, and threatens to retaliate, 2, 21
Prussia, Prince William of, defeats the division of Marmont at Laon, I. 237
Prussia, King of, visits Britain, I. 350—His manners, 352
Publications, list of, for 1814, *i

Q.

Quebec packet picks up the crew of the Amphitrite in the western ocean, II. clxxiii
Queen transport, loss of, II. vii
Queensberry, Marquis of, lays the foundation of a new residence, to be called Kinmont House, II. xl

Quintin, Colonel, account of his trial and sentence for abandoning his duty while a commanding officer, II. cxliii-cxlvi

R.

Ratty, Benjamin, indicted for stealing, II. xiii
Reindeer sloop of war captured by the American ship Wasp, I. 331
Review, grand military, in Hyde Park, II. lxxv
Rheims opens its gates to the Russians, I. 213—The Cossacks expelled, 243—Retaken by General St Priest, ib.—Again stormed and taken by Buonaparte, 244—Again stormed and retaken by Blucher, 203
Riot at Sherlock fair, II. lvi. At Downpatrick, xcviii. At Lynh, among the sailors, on a proposed reduction of wages, clvii. At St Ives, Huntingdonshire, clxiii. At the Dublin theatre, clxxiii
Robbery of Robert Prendergast, Esq.'s house, Greenmount, Ireland, II. cxli—Of sundry houses in the county of Waterford, cxlii, cxliii—Of a poor girl near Glasgow, clxii—Of a poor woman in Glasgow Green, cliii—Of a gentleman in the Gallowgate, Glasgow, ib.—Of Nathaniel Crossland, London, clxi
Roman coins found near Uppingham, II. cxxiv
Rome, restoration of Pius, I. 315. Reestablishment of the Jesuits, 316—Admission of novices into their society, 149
Romilly, Sir Samuel, mover of a bill to take away corruption of blood in cases of attainder for felony and high treason, I. 50. Bill for subjecting the freehold estate of debtors to the payment of their simple contract debts, 54
Ross, Major-General, he commands the expedition against Washington, I. 335—He defeats the American army, 336—He takes the capital, and destroys its public buildings, ib.—He is mortally wounded at Baltimore, 338
Roseberry, Earl of, prosecutes Sir Henry Mildmay, for crim. con. with his wife, II. clviii-clx
Rotterdam, festivity on board the Manse frigate, II. cxxxv
Roverbello, battle of, I. 312
Rutland Castle visited by the Prince Regent, II. iii, iv
Ruthven, Mr, invents a new printing-press, II. xxiii

S.

Sacken, General, his division defeated by the French near Chalons, I. 195-197. He attends the funeral of the ex-empress of France, II. lxvii
Sadler, Mr, ascends from Burlington house, II. lxxvii—From the Green Park, London, cvi—From Kettlewell Orchard, York, cxvi—From Pontefract, cxxvi—From Doncaster, cxxx
Saunders, Dr, of Suffolk, shot by the accidental discharge of his own gun while fowling, II, cxxiii
Saxony, affairs of, I. 304, 305. Declaration of the king on the occupation of the country by the Prussians, II. 373
Scheldt, declared open by the treaty of Paris, I. 308
Schwartzenberg, Prince, issues a proclamation to the Swiss on entering their territories, I. 175. Skirmishes with the French outposts at St Croix, ib. His proclamation announcing death to every French peasant taken in arms censured, 177. His army enters Dijon, 181. He advances with the grand allied army upon Troyes, 194. He unites with Blucher, 201. He retreats from Troyes, 202, 203. He defeats Marshal M'Donald at Bar-sur-L'Aube, 238, 239. He moves upon Arcis-sur-Aube and engages the French, 246, 247. He moves upon Vitry, 252. He rapidly advances to Paris, 256. The capital surrenders, 262, 263
Scott, Walter, is presented with the freedom of Edinburgh, II. v. His inscription at the Bell Rock, cxxiv
Sens stormed by the Prince Royal of Wirtemberg, I. 198
Sicily, affairs of, I. 316, 317
Sidmouth, Lord, accounts for the militia remaining embodied, I. 90, 91
Slave trade, Mr Wilberforce moves for petitioning the Prince Regent to exert his influence with the different European powers to procure its universal abolition, I. 118-122. This motion carried unanimously, 123. France refuses to abolish it immediately, ib. Discussions on, 131. Prohibitory decree of the Board of Trade of Amsterdam, II. lxvi. Account of slave-vessels captured, cxvi

Smith, Dr James Edward, President of the Linnæan Society, created a knight by the Prince Regent, II. ciii
Smuggling, seizure by Custom-house officers at Glasgow, II. cxiv
Smyrna, ravages of the plague there, II. lvii—Farther particulars, cxl
Soissons taken by the Russians, and given up to pillage, I. 214. Attacked by Buonaparte, 234. Evacuated by the Russians, 235
Solway Frith frozen over, II. x
Soult, Marshal, kept in check by Lord Wellington, I. 216. He is defeated at Orthes, 224-226. He fortifies Toulouse, 280. He evacuates that city, 283
Southcombe, John, of Devonshire, rode down and killed by mail-coaches, II. cxlvii
Southcote, Johanna, account of, II. cx. Letter of S. Bradley concerning her, cxv. Her death, clxxi
Southey, Mr, "Peter of Barnet," a poem, ascribed to him, II. ccccxxv
Spain, negociations for restoring Ferdinand, I, 214-216. Dissensions of the Cortes, 317, 318. The Liberales succeed in abolishing the Inquisition, 319. Return of Ferdinand, ib. Inquisition restored, 323. Conspiracies detected, ib. Punishment of the conspirators, 324. Insurrections in South America, 325-327
Speaker of the House of Commons defends himself from the motion of Lord Morpeth, I. 70-74. That motion negatived by a large majority, ib. Addresses the Prince Regent at the close of the session of parliament, 163, 164. His speech to the Duke of Wellington, II. lxxxix
St Andrews, the university of, elects Lord Melville Chancellor, II. xx
Stackpole, Captain, shot in a duel with Lieutenant Cecil, II. lvi
Stafford, dreadful storm there, II. clxv
Steel, Richard, byreman, Berwickshire, killed by a bull, II, liii
Stevenson, John, coroner's inquest on his body, II, clvi
Stock Exchange, account of fraud on, I. 345-350
Storms, accounts of, in the principal cities, II, vii-x. The effects of fresh storms described, clxiv-clxix
Sturman, Mr, is tried and convicted for wilfully firing his house, II. xi, xii
Suicide of Mr Bagshaw, Dumfries, II. xviii—Of Henry Rogers, lxiv—Of a coachman at Glasgow, clii—Of Mr Eaton, London, clvii—Of Lord Ffrench at Dublin, clxi
Sweden, King of, issues a proclamation to the Norwegians, I. 299, 300. His declaration to the same, II. l. Convention with the same, cccii
Swindling, curious case of, at London, II. xxxi—At Paris, cxxxii-cxxxiv—At Glasgow, cliii—At London, clxix
Switzerland, affairs of, I. 308, 309. Federal compact between the states, II. ccclxiv

T.

Talleyrand, favours the return of the Bourbons, I. 220. Convokes the Conservative Senate, 274. He is appointed plenipotentiary for France at Congress, 274. He opposes the partition of Saxony, 305. He signs the charter of rights, II. xxxvii
Thames frozen over, II. xiv
Thanksgiving, day of, appointed, I. 356. Particulars of, II. xcii-xciv
Thornton, Robert, account of his library, II. cxxxi
Tierney, Mr, speaks on the grant to the Princess of Wales, I. 96-111. Alarmed at her retiring to the continent, 114, 115. Inquires if the property-tax was to be continued, 162. His speech on the civil list, 152
Tolle, De, commands the Russians at the investment of Paris, and treats with Marmont, 261, 262. He visits Britain, 350
Toulouse, battle of, I. 280-282. Threatened with a siege, 282. Soult withdraws his army from, 280. Entry of the Duke of Wellington, ib.
Tower, London, an ancient royal sceptre found in the jewel room, II. liv
Treaty between Austria, Russia, England, and Prussia concluded at Chatillon, I. 240—Between Britain and the Emperor Alexander, 276-278—Between the allies and Louis XVIII. 291—Between Sweden and Denmark, II. 304—Between Austria, Russia, Great Britain, and Prussia, cccxv—Between the allied powers and the Emperor Napoleon, cccxxvi —Between the allied powers and France, cccxxxiii—Between Denmark and Prussia, cccclxii—Between the Cantons forming the Swiss Confederation, cccclxiii—Between Denmark and Russia, cccclxvi

Trial of Mr Sturman for wilfully firing his house, II. xi, xii—Of B. Ratty for stealing, xiii—Of Richard Locke, xxv—His singular behaviour, ib.—Of Major Gordon, for accidentally killing Gregory, a private, xxxi—Of Daniel Isaac Eaton for publishing "Ecce Homo," lii—Of the persons concerned in the fraud on Stock Exchange, lxxxiii-lxxxviii—Of Mary Ann Adlam for petit treason in the wilful murder of her husband, cxv—Of W. H. Souper for killing Adjutant Duterich in a duel, cxix—Of William Bradley, a retired rear-admiral, for forgery, cxx—Of C. Bianca of Exeter Change for vending fire-balls, cxxxvi, cxxxvii—Of Col. Quintin for abandoning his duty while a commanding officer, cxliii-cxlvi —Of George Houston for being concerned with Eton in publishing "Ecce Homo," cl—Of Thomas Nott for swindling, clxix-clxxviii
Trinity College receives a loan from Parliament for completing the buildings, II. cxix
Troyes, evacuated by the allied monarchs, I. 202. Retaken by Prince Schwartzenberg, 240
Tyne, river, melting of the ice there, II. xiv

U.

Undaunted frigate sails with Buonaparte on board for Elba, I. 288

V.

Vansittart, Mr, his speech on the new loan contracted 15th November, I. 31-33. Replies to Mr Whitbread's animadversions on the vote of credit, 161. His exposition of the civil list expenditure and budget for the year, 149-154
Venus brig is driven ashore at Yarmouth, II, ix
Vienna, meeting of the allied sovereigns—opening of the congress there, II. cxxxiv. Grand fete given on the anniversary of the battle of Leipsic, cxxxviii
Vitry, summoned to surrender by Buonaparte, I. 270
Volunteers, 1st regiment of Edinburgh, disembodied, II. 91

W

Wallachia, dreadful avalanche there, II, lx
Wallerstein, Joseph, account of his swindling exploits at Paris, II. cxxxii-cxxxiv
Ward, Mr, brings forward the ordnance estimates for the year, I. 148, 149
Washington is taken by the British under General Ross, I. 335-337
Wellesley, Marquis, his speech at the opening of parliament, I. 6
Wellesley, Sir H., concludes a treaty with Spain, II. cxxiv
Wellington, Duke of, encamps near Bayonne, I. 216. He keeps up the strictest discipline among his troops. He gains a victory over Marshal Soult at Orthes, 224, 225. He is struck by a grape-shot, ib. He invests Bayonne, 227. His ignorance of the dethronement of Napoleon, 231. He gains the battle of Toulouse, 281, 282. He enters Toulouse, 283. Offers to serve in America, 333. His arrival in London, and reappearance in the House of Lords, 353. He receives the thanks of parliament, and replies to the Lord Chancellor, 354. His speech to the Commons, II. lxxxix. He is appointed ambassador to the court of France, xci. Superb fete in honour of him by the Prince Regent, c-cii
Western, Mr, opposes the proposed amendment of the poor-laws, I. 64. His speech on the new corn bill, 74-80
Westminster electors, their address to Lord Cochrane on his re-election, II, xcviii. His reply, xcix
Weymouth, account of the storm there, II. clxviii
Whitbread, Mr, supports the local militia bill, I. 26. Congratulates ministers on the emancipation of Holland, ib. His speech on the grant to the Princess of Wales, 110. Censures the vote of credit, on the ground that Britain was at war with no power but America, 161.
Wilberforce, Mr, his motions for petitioning the Prince Regent to press upon the continental powers the abolition of the slave trade, I. 118, 122, 123, 127

Wilson, John, the "Morning Star," a poem, ascribed to, II. cccexxix
Wirtemberg, Prince Royal of, takes Sens, I. 98. He is compelled by Buonaparte to evacuate Montereau, 200
Wittenberg stormed, I. 295.
Wordsworth, Mr, the "Stranger," a poem, ascribed to, II. cccexiv
Wreck of a transport on her passage to Quebec, II. clvi—Of the Amphitrite, clxxii
Wrede, Count, assists Blucher at the battle of La Rothiere, I. 191, 192
Wynne, Mr, supports the militia bill, I, 24

Y.

Yorke, Mr, his amendment carried on bill to take away corruption of blood, I. 54

END OF VOLUME SEVENTH.

EDINBURGH:
Printed by James Ballantyne & Co.

e,
t-
I,

II
I.